

CASHCARD OR 'MECHY' BINGO

STARTING THE SESSION

Mechanised Cash Bingo is a key area of the business. It's an area we generate a lot of income from; it is essential that you are able to call and sell these games in a fun and entertaining manner.

1. The first thing you should do is ensure that the sound system is on, ask you team leader to show you how to turn this on.
2. Once the sound system is on you should ensure that the rig is set to 'Advert Mode'.
  - This will ensure the customers can see the numbers called.
  - It will also display any upcoming club promotions on the matrix board
3. Once you have ensured these are both done you can begin the session.

THE CALLING SCREEN

1. There are a few things to get familiar with on the calling screen.
  - The first is the game that is being played.
  - On the right-hand side there is a box that shows you what the type of game it is, in the example below it is a yellow and blue line only game.
  - It also shows you the stake (how much it is to play)
  - If your club has a policy in place then the order of play will be shown on the right-hand side as well, this allows you to see what the next games coming up are. This is useful so you can promote up and coming games.

2. The next important part of this screen is the purple box.
  - This is where you will see claim 'Prompt's'
  - If you get a prompt, it will first turn yellow and then once the customer presses their claim button it will turn white.
  - Once you have validated the claim and reset the game the card number will go onto the right-hand side of the box under the winners bit.

3. The information at the bottom of the screen is also important;
  - From left to right you will see:
    - o The Number of the Game
    - o Cards in Play
    - o Total Players (this may vary from the 'Cards in play' if customers are playing more than one card)
    - o Total Cash In
    - o P.M.A (Prize Money Added)
    - o Payout; The payout is the most important figure here. You can let customers know how much prize money is on offer; this might convince more customers to play
